

I support the new band allocations for Amateur Radio and suggest allocated sub-bands for narrowband and wideband modes.
A 136Khz amateur band would be very desirable for amateur radio experimentation with narrowband modes and antennas.